SHORT BIO

Actually, Dr. Prazeres is an associate professor in the Web/Internet area at Federal University of Bahia (UFBA) since 2010, where he leads research activities and projects, teaches undergraduate and post-graduate courses, and is advisor for Ph.D, M.Sc. and B.Sc. students. Also at UFBA, Prazeres is a co-founder and leader of a laboratory and CNPq research group (WISER: Web, Internet and Intelligent Systems Research Group). He holds a PhD degree in Computer Science from University of Sao Paulo (USP). He has several publications in international conferences and journals. Prazeres is member of: Brazilian Computer Society (SBC); IEEE Communications Society; IEEE Computer Society Technical Committee on Services Computing; IEEE Smart Cities Technical Community; IEEE Internet of Things Technical Community; ACM SIGWEB (Special Interest Group on Hypertext the Web); W3C Web of Things Community Group. He is interested in research involving topics of Internet of Things, Web of Things, Web Services, Semantic Web, Microservices, Fog Computing, Fog of Things, Web of Data, and Linked Data. Prazeres have coordinated projects in the Internet/Web of Things themes in the last years and have participated on other related projects as Digital TV, crowdsourcing and e-learning projects, for instance. Recently, Dr. Prazeres had a sabbatical year as a Visiting Researcher at Insight Centre for Data Analytics (former DERI) at the National University of Ireland, Galway (NUIG).

EDUCATION

- Sabbatical, Internet of Things and Semantic Web area, 2015, National University of Ireland at Galway (NUIG), Ireland, Martin Serrano's Group.
- Ph.D. in Computer Science, 2009, Area of Specialization: Web. University of São Paulo (USP), São Carlos, S. Paulo.
- M.Sc. in Computer Science, 2003, Area of Specialization: Web. University of Salvador (UNIFACS), Salvador, Bahia.
- B.Sc. in Computer Science, 2000. Salvador University (UNIFACS), Salvador, Bahia,

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Research projects:

- SOFT-IoT: Self-Organizing Fog of Things for the Internet of Things (project coordinator)

- Fog of Things: Reactive Microservices and Data Interplay (project coordinator)
- Fog of Things: devices and gateways (project coordinator)
- Smart-UFBA: Web of Things for a Smart Campus (project coordinator)
- Identity, authentication and authorization management on the Web of Things (project coordinator)
- Enterprise Service Bus as infrastructure for the Web of Things (project coordinator)
- T2T: Things to Things (project coordinator)

Doctoral Research: Institute of Mathematic Science and Computing, University of São Paulo, 2005-2009, (research advisor: Dr. Maria da Graça Campos Pimentel).

Research field: Semantic Web Services

- Semantic Web Services modeling
- Semantic Web Services discovery
- Semantic Web Services composition

Masters Research: Salvador University, 2001-2003, (research advisor: Dr. Cesar Augusto Camillo Teixeira).

Research field: Hypermedia Authoring

- Multimedia News Content
- Authoring and Management of News Using Markup Languages

RESEARCH INTERESTS

- Internet of Things: Protocols, Architecture, Semantic, Data, Discovery, and Composition.
- Semantic Web: Ontology, Linked Data, Authoring, Browsing, and Presentation.
- Semantic Web Services: Discovery and Composition.

OTHER INTERESTS

- Ubiquitous Computing
- Document Engineering

AWARDS

- 2018: Best Paper Award for the paper "Load Balancing in the Fog of Things Platforms Through Software-Defined Networking" in proceedings of the 18th IEEE International Conference on Computer and Information Technology.
- 2014: Honorable Mention for the paper "Web of Things: Automatic Publishing and Configuration of Devices" in proceedings of the 20th Brazilian Symposium of Multimedia Systems and Web.
- 2005: One of the ten master's dissertations highlighted as the best among 40 dissertations defended until 2005. Salvador University - Master in Systems and Computation Program.

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

- Graduate
 - Data Science
 - Internet of Things
 - Web and Hypermedia Systems
- Undergraduate
 - Web Services and Web of Things
 - Service Oriented Architecture and Web Services
 - Web Systems
 - Multimedia Systems
 - Object Oriented Programming
 - Data Structures
 - Programming Lab I
 - Introduction to Programming

UNIVERSITY SERVICES

Department Head: Federal University of Bahia, Institute of Computing, Department of Computer Science (2021-Current)

Undergraduate Coordinator: B.Sc. in Information Systems (2013-2014)
